

I have been writing this column incognito for six months now. It is time I reveal my identity.

THE MONTH AFTER

December was a month packed with holidays and events, some of them very familiar and some other really bizarre. For instance, www.holidayinsights.com lists 57 events to celebrate in December.

From 'Eat a Red Apple Day', 'Wear Brown Shoes Day', 'National Cotton Candy Day', 'National Maple Syrup Day', 'Look on the Bright Side Day' to 'Christmas Day', 'Boxing Day', 'National Pumpkin Pie Day' and 'New Year's Eve', not to mention the 'Mayan Calendar Day', there were so many occasions to enjoy and celebrate colorful ideas with friends and family.

The month after the holidays, we are generally left with white snowy grounds, gloomy gray skies and, well, dark long nights.

Those who are lucky to witness the Northern lights can enjoy a twirling sky show of dancing colors. The rest of us could always add some oomph to our dim surroundings by selecting objects painted or coated with colors that reflect light, shimmer and flicker.

I selected three uplifting colors to supplement us with a dose of pleasure to defy the gloomy vitamin D deficient short days effect.

CHAMPAGNE 303 reveals restrained suggestions of high chroma crystal effect pigments, which prompt the finish to smoothly shine with the grace of a glass of bubbly draped with notes of silver and copper. This is a relaxing finish with the ability to brighten a dull low light day.

GRECO

TIGER Drylac® product ID 38/68130

Unexpectedly engaging and somewhat textured. Rich bronze and reddish gold hues are concealed beneath the pearlescent effects dispersed by GRECO. This is a highly sophisticated and tanned finish that could transport us to a sunny Greek island in a blink of an eye.

GOLD BROWN

TIGER Drylac® product ID 38/68192

Mystified between brown and gold, GOLD BROWN reflects minute flashes of silvery effect pigments with an audacious strike of hidden light expressions. The peaks and valleys of the fine textured coating skin intensify the glimmer as the light is dispersed across the surface.
